

Weezer, I Do

all the times you came I should have ran away

you told me that you'd always love me

and the games you played were meant to lead me on

always ooh, always
I do

nevermore again will I believe the sun...
