

Wide Mouth Mason, I Love Not Loving You

It used to be any fool could see
I was lost in you being lost in me
I was two feet back from my head it seems
I was watching you look away from me
On and on and on I'd go
'Til a voice inside I didn't know said let go

I love not loving you anymore
I love not going through what you put me through
When I loved you
I was just a piece of the scenery
I was lost in you being lost in me
I lift my voice to your silent scream baby you sing lead
I'm a harmony
My friend here you are again
And just as I began to pull me out of the wreckage
Alright you caught me in a lie
But if I talk it I may buy it
I've got to try it

I sucker myself so foolishly
'Cause I'm lost in you being lost in me
North is south and my west in east
I'm upside down and I'm on my knees
On and on and on like so
'Til it hit me in Ontario
When a voice inside I didn't know
Said let go
