Widespread Panic, I'm Not Alone

I see what I do, first look at the phone Turn on your TV Unscrew a bottle of beer, An orange square cellophane cheese First I think of this, and then I turn to that Maybe I just don't think Might sing to this, I might sing to that If I could only sing

Now, as you can see This clearly isn't me I'm not alone, I'm just blue I'm not alone

There was a day when I was alone
A few sane days ago
There was a love I've been living with
That I lost on the way home
First I thought of this
And then I turn to that
And then I turn a little bit scared
Well, I feel a little bit easier
Knowing that you're here

Now, as you can see This clearly isn't me I'm not alone, I'm just blue I'm not alone

First I think of this Then I turn to that Then I turn a little scared I feel a little easier now Knowing that you're all here

Now, as you can see This clearly isn't me I'm not alone, I'm just blue I'm not alone
