

Within Temptation, The Last Time

For so long I've tried Could not close my eyes when you became an outcast in this life

Again and again I try to understand the demons inside your head
But the truth is
you love them to death

Now I know it's the last time I have tried to lift you up, to make you fight
Nothing is ever easy in life
I can't change it if you don't have the will deep inside

I have been blind to how you justify everything that you've wasted in this life

Got lost in the illusion
I'd find a solution for the demons in your head
But the truth is
you love them to death

Now I know it's the last time I have tried
to lift you up, to make you fight
Nothing is ever easy in life
I can't change it if you don't
have the will deep inside

You can blame and you can hide behind what is wrong and what is right Life is the choices we make I hope you'll awake before it's too late

Now I know it's the last time I have tried
to lift you up, to make you fight
Nothing is ever easy in life
I can't change it if you don't
have the will deep inside
