Wolfsheim, Now I Fall

Sometimes I can't fall asleep You lie beside me and I weep Dancing shadows on the wall Once you caught me ... now I fall

Sometimes I feel love and trust Turn to anger and disgust Crawling darkness in between No light in reach ... no silver sheen Sometimes I feel so ashamed To be mercilessly framed Idle hands and eyes that stare But no escape that I would dare

... love and trust
... anger and disgust
Crawling darkness in between
No light in reach ... no silver sheen
... so ashamed
... mercilessly framed
Idle hands and eyes that stare
But no escape that I would dare

Pain increasing every day
No truth left I won't betray
One day our way leads to an end
Why do I cry ... I understand
That it's too late for me to go
I should have left you years ago
Beyond this point of no return
Hatred's flame will ever burn

... every day
... I won't betray
One day our way leads to an end
Why do I cry ... I understand
... too late for me to go
I should have left you years ago
Beyond this point of no return
Hatred's flame will ever burn

Dancing shadows on the wall Once you caught me ... now I fall

Crawling darkness in between No light in reach ... no silver sheen
